Lost Dog Trying to Homestead With Editor

If anyone has lost a young Alsatian German Shepherd dog I can tell you where to find him—look in my garage at 709 S. Main St., on the south side of First Presbyterian Church.

He arrived some time late Tuesday, sidling up to me as I got out of the car—the biggest German Shepherd I have ever seen, and remarkably handsome.

But no collar and no name. The natural state of all dogs is hungry, so I tried him out on a can of dog meat. It disappeared so fast I broke open a second can—then I left him in the garage and went to bed.

He was still there when I drove off this morning. Will someone please reclaim their pet?

I have a problem at home—my Boxer dog, Roger. He's no dumbbell. His nose told him last night there was another dog beyond the outside door, and by the time I made the second trip through that door with a can of meat I had on my hands one unhappy Boxer.

I wouldn't mind latching onto the handsome Shepherd—but first loyalties come first. I'm a Boxer man, and I expect the owner of this Shepherd to show up shortly and reclaim him. Otherwise I'll have to turn the rascal over to the municipal dog pound.

Hay Picture Bright in This Area

Plenty of moisture—too much in some areas—has brightened the hay and forage outlook for livestock men in Southwest Arkansas. Soybeans on well drained soil are doing very well, while some on poorly drained soil are dead or dying.

In a series of special crop reports by Agricultural Extension Service Agents in the area, the following observations were made:

Miller County soybeans are doing well except for some fields which drowned out. Alfalfa hay has been hurt by excessive rain and the last cutting of Bermuda hay was overmature because of wet ground keeping the harvesters out.

In Sevier County, soybeans are blooming and setting pods. Grass hay is making excellent growth. All types of hay are making good growth in Hempstead County. Army worms are showing up in whorls of some late planted corn.

Sorghum yields are expected to be higher than normal in Lafayette County. Most cotton in the county is fruiting well but some have excessive vegetative growth and boll rot.

Pastures are in excellent condition in Polk County. Fescue hasn't gone dormant yet due to the cool weather and plenty of moisture. Livestock are in good condition and still gaining weight.

Soybeans made good growth on well drained soils in Nevada County but there are spots on some fields where plants died due to poor drainage, lack of oxygen, and Southern blight. Open weather is needed for both soybeans and cotton.

To Early to Analyze Results

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP) — Mayor John Oxner of Marianna says it is too early to "try to analyze" the results of a meeting Tuesday between five representatives of the white community and five representatives of the black community.

Oxner said the meeting was a calm discussion of the racial issues at Marianna.

A black boycott of white merchants in Marianna has increased racial tensions in the city. The blacks says 42 demands before the boycott, which has lasted several weeks, will be dissolved.

Convicted Wife Slayer Released

By CHARLES McFADDEN
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Bernard Finch, central figure in the sensational 1959 murder of his wife, will be released.

Finch, 53, will be released from the minimum security California Institute for Men at Chino Dec. 6. He has several job possibilities lined up in Missouri, Nebraska and Maryland as well as California, according to Henry Kerr, chairman of the California Adult Authority.

Finch's onetime sweetheart, Carole Tregoff, who was convicted with him, was paroled earlier.

The physician, convicted in 1961 and sentenced to life in prison, has served 12 years including pretrial confinement. In California, a convict serving life can be considered for parole after seven years.

At Chino, near Los Angeles, institution superintendent Bertram Griggs told Finch the news and said, "I thought he would cry. He was very elated, very grateful ... I got no feeling that he is a bitter man by any means ... His happiness sort of radiated on his face."

Finch then 41, was arrested at the Las Vegas apartment of Miss Tregoff on July 19, 1959, the night after a policeman found the body of Barbara Finch lying in the moonlight on a neighbor's lawn in the Los Angeles suburb of West Covina. Mrs. Finch, 36, an attractive socialite, had been shot and her skull fractured.

Chance of Showers in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The chance of showers and thundershowers has left the Arkansas weather scene and is not expected to return until Sunday, when showers are forecast in the east and central portions.

The state is still under the influence of a weak high-pressure ridge that covers most of the eastern half of the nation. There are no frontal systems affecting or approaching the state. Smoke and haze trapped in the lower layers of the atmosphere have kept visibility low in many areas of Arkansas.

Skies should be partly cloudy for the next two days with afternoon highs in the 80s to low 90s. Early morning lows will range from the low 60s to low 70s.

Moisture has not been sufficient for afternoon thundershowers of any consequence, though there was several isolated showers in southwest Arkansas Tuesday afternoon.

Be Careful and Make Your Promises Highly Selective and Few

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: One of the biggest mistakes you can make in life is to promise too much to too many people. Your promises should be few and highly selective; the fewer you make, the fewer you have to keep. If you make a thousand promises and make good on 999 of them, the one you'll be remembered for the longest is the one you didn't fulfill. Nobody ever really gives a broken promise. You're only as good as the promises you keep.

What is the one thing you'd hate to be told you had to do or starve? In my case, I think what I'd hate most to be told to do would be to shoe a horse. I have no idea how to begin or which end of the horse to try to placate first.

The thing the average fellow finds hardest to figure out about President Nixon's new economic policy is why, the day after he freezes prices and

Insurance Agents Meet Here to Discuss Plan for No-Fault Program

By JIM McCALL
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A special committee of the Arkansas Association of Insurance Agents has completed an outline that will be used to draft legislation for a no-fault automobile insurance plan.

The outline would not be made public until members of the committee were ready to begin drafting the bill. He said parts of the outline were still flexible and several changes were expected.

The outline is patterned after a no-fault bill written by the Florida Association of Insurance Agents, Herget said.

The Florida plan, which went into effect this year, is a "modified" no-fault plan.

Under a modified no-fault plan, an accident victim would be reimbursed for medical payments and property damage by his own insurance company.

This would eliminate the need for establishing blame before payments could be made.

The plan also would set up a "threshold" for no-fault payments.

Herget explained that "first-party claims would be paid up to a certain amount by a victim's own insurance company and once the threshold was reached, the victim would have

Huge Force of Bombers Hit Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Half the B52 bombers in Southeast Asia today made the heaviest strikes in a year along the demilitarized zone, and South Vietnamese commanders predicted heavier enemy rocket and mortar attacks along the northern frontier.

As fighting continued along the DMZ for the seventh day, Cambodian troops claimed about 100 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in a battle in southeastern Cambodia. The Cambodian command said four government troops were killed and five were wounded.

About 25 B52s from Thailand dropped 750 tons of bombs on suspected North Vietnamese positions inside the southern half of the DMZ and southward for 15 miles.

Most of the strikes were at the western end of the DMZ defense line, around 1,500-foot Mt. Ba Ho and neighboring Fire Base Fuller and Sarge, which came under new attack. A company of South Vietnamese marines was driven from an outpost on Ba Ho last Sunday and suffered heavy losses.

Half a dozen new shelling attacks and three ground clashes were reported, including a 100-round rocket and mortar barrage against Sarge.

At least nine North Vietnamese and five South Vietnamese were reported killed and 17 South Vietnamese wounded.

I. Col. Huynh Dinh Tung, a regimental commander at the northern front, said the North Vietnamese are trying to move more heavy weapons and ammunition across the DMZ. He said intelligence information indicates that all South Vietnamese bases below the DMZ will come under heavier rocket and mortar attack for six days beginning Friday.

$75,000 Grant Sought for Hope Schools

The Hope School District will submit an application to the federal Health, Education and Welfare Department by Friday, August 27 seeking about $75,000 to fund such projects as a program of developing innovative instructional materials, methods and techniques, instructional staff development, clerical and teacher aides, and for the improvement and expansion of some existing instructional areas.

The bi-racial advisory committee composed of Mrs. Bobby Allen, Mrs. George Frazier, Mrs. Mack White, Mrs. Norman Gilbey, Mrs. Hazel Williams, Bill Gunter, Vander Lloyd, Jr., and Rev. W.G. Wynn have approved the project application and plans for its implementation.

Several hundred persons from a five-county area heard Fourth District Congressman David Pryor call Congressman Wilbur Mills the "greatest legislative architect of his time" in a gathering Tuesday night near Ashdown.

Residents from Little River, Howard, Hempstead, Sevier, and Miller Counties attended the barbecue which initiated Pryor's first trip as congressman to his new constituents following a district reappointment.

The meal featured barbecued pork and beef, cole slaw and all the trimmings as Ace Cannon and his band played while the folks ate and talked politics.

Mr. Pryor told the crowd he wanted to be a part of "your community". He said Wilbur Mills "knows more about the economic picture and fiscal structure of this nation than any other living man."

Chinese Parents Step Into New Legal Fight Over School Busing

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The city of San Francisco and a group of Chinese parents are challenging the Supreme Court to step into a new squabble over racial balancing, busing and neighborhood schools.

They appealed separately Tuesday to Justice William O. Douglas for temporary delay of a massive desegregation order by federal Judge Stanley A. Weigel.

The court has never heard a school case from the North. At the heart of the San Francisco dispute is de facto segregation—concentration of blacks, whites or, in this case, Chinese, in certain schools because families in the neighborhood are predominantly of that race.

Earlier in the week, school officials from Corpus Christi, Tex., asked the court to spare them the immediate need of busing about 15,000 children at a cost of $1.7 million to integrate Mexican-Americans within the system.

That plea went to Justice Hugo L. Black, who has jurisdiction over Texas cases as Douglas has over cases from California. Black is awaiting a reply from the Justice Department. Expected momentarily, it will be the first administration statement on busing since President Nixon publicly disavowed an extensive busing plan for Austin, Tex.

Last April the court unanimously upheld busing of school children over long distances in Charlotte, N.C., and approved consideration of racial quotas as a starting point for school desegregation. San Francisco City Attorney Thomas O'Connor disputed in his plea to Douglas that the court has ever imposed racial planning as a "question of law."

He also said the court should rule on de facto segregation before permitting the busing ordered by Weigel.

The Chinese, meanwhile, argued for retention of their neighborhood schools. They said their culture would be endangered if Chinese children were bused long distances to comply with a plan approved by U.S. Judge Woodrow Seals.

The Chinese operate their own after-hours classes to keep their young attuned to the Chinese language and Chinese art. These schools would be shut down, the appeal said, if the children could not attend because they were spending long hours on buses.

Hope Girl in Miss Dixie Teen Pageant

A 17-year-old Hope high school senior has been accepted as a contestant in the annual Arkansas state Miss Dixie Teen pageant. She is Charlotte Williams, 17, daughter of J.C. Williams.

The pageant, for Arkansas girls ages 13 through 19, will be staged August 27-28-29 at the Holiday Inn in North Little Rock under direction of Mrs. Lovie Roe of Des Arc.

Miss Williams, who maintained a "B" scholastic average, attends the Church of Christ; is active in the Girl Scouts, Bobbets, and serves as a vacation Bible school assistant. Her hobby is music and her ambition is to become a primary teacher.

The state pageant director, Mrs. Lovie Roe, said last minute entries from other Hope area girls may be arranged for by contacting her at P.O. Box 198, Des Arc, Ark., 72040.

37 Killed in Helicopter Explosion

PEGNITZ, Germany (AP) — A U.S. Army transport helicopter exploded in flight near the Grafenwoehr training area today and all 37 men aboard were killed, the Army reported.

The twin-engine CH47 Chinook helicopter was en route from Ludwigsburg, near Stuttgart, to Grafenwoehr with a crew of four and 33 members of the 56th Artillery Brigade, according to a spokesman for the U.S. Army European Command in Heidelberg. He said 25 bodies had been recovered so far.

Market Posts Another Strong Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted another strong gain Tuesday in heavy trading with motor issues leading the way.

The performance was a continuation of Wall Street's response to new economic policies proclaimed Sunday by President Nixon.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose 10.95 points Tuesday to 899.90. Volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 26.79 million shares.

Congress Appears Set to Back Nixon Program; Europe Issues Warning

British to Stave Off Jap Goods

By RODNEY PINDER
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The European Common Market warned today that President Nixon's surcharge on imports could cancel the results of the Kennedy Round of tariff reductions and reduce international trade.

The Common Market's executive commission, called back hurriedly from vacation, met for five hours in Brussels Wednesday night for its first assessment of Nixon's imposition of a 10 per cent surtax on foreign manufactured goods and suspension of the dollar's ties to gold.

The British government, meanwhile, prepared to stave

Teacher Pay May Clear Up Today

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Teachers in Arkansas who are on nine-month contracts may learn today whether the wage-price freeze imposed by President Nixon will keep them from receiving scheduled pay increases next month.

A spokesman for the Office of Emergency Preparedness says Nixon's Cost of Living Council hopes to have a decision today on whether the freeze, announced Sunday, blocks pay hikes for teachers and other state, local and federal government employees.

Arkansas Education Director A. W. Ford said Tuesday the fact that almost all of the state's school districts include staff and faculty who have both 12-month and nine-month contracts would pose a problem. He said there would be inequities within each district if teachers on nine-month contracts did not receive their scheduled pay raises as 12-month teachers did when their contracts began July 1.

Teachers who are paid on a 12-month basis already are benefiting from the $400-a-year raise authorized by the legislature. Ford said he did not know how many teachers in the state are scheduled to receive pay increases at the start of school this fall, but said there was a "sizeable group."

In another development, a Treasury Department spokesman in Washington said that tuition and fee increases for colleges and private schools that were previously announced with the semester opening in September will be permitted to take effect as scheduled.

The spokesman said Treasury Secretary John B. Connally

Action on Welfare in Doubt

By JOE HALL

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate action this year on President Nixon's welfare-reform bill has been thrown into doubt by his request that its effective date be delayed a year.

The proposal, passed by the House June 22, now is before the Senate Finance Committee where it again faces strong opposition. The panel killed the plan in the preceding Congress after the House cleared it.

This year, however, the House put the plan in an omnibus bill containing many other provisions including broad increases in Social Security benefits. And members of the Finance Committee opposed to the welfare revision concede the Senate at least will insist on passing the Social Security provisions before ending the 1971 session.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., committee chairman, said Tuesday after a White House session it was his understanding Nixon wanted the Senate to proceed with the welfare bill, but changing the effective date to July 1, 1973, instead of July 1, 1972 as first proposed.

The President asked for the year's delay as a part of his economic recovery plan.

Long's committee has already heard administration officials testify on the plan, which Nixon has called the most important domestic proposal of his administration.

Committee hearings resume in September as planned, Long said, but they will be interrupted to handle the Nixon tax package as soon as the House acts on it.

Beyond that, Long would not predict what his committee might do with the Welfare-Social Security plan.

Nutrition Workshop for Teachers

The Extension Service is interested in reaching elementary teachers throughout Hempstead County to acquaint them with creative methods to reach and educate youth about the importance of nutrition.

In cooperation with the Dairy Council two nutrition workshops will be held. Ways will be suggested to incorporate nutrition into teaching and free color visuals to promote effectiveness.

The first meet will be held Thursday, August 19, at 8 a.m. until 12 noon for teachers of grades 1-23 at the School Administration Building in downtown Hope.

INSURANCE

to file suit against the other party or parties involved in the accident for payment of the remainder of the claim.

Under the modified plan, a person would still have to carry residual liability insurance to protect himself in case he was involved in an accident that surpassed the threshold limit. Herget explained the limit could be set at any amount.

Some of the provisions included in the Florida bill that will probably be included in legislation presented to the Arkansas legislature include:

—Mandatory coverage for all motorists. Herget said that currently about 30 per cent of the vehicles in the state were not insured. He said for a no-fault plan to work, everyone must have insurance.

—Persons driving while intoxicated or under the influence of drugs or driving a stolen or unlicensed vehicle would not be entitled for first-party payments from their insurance companies. Herget said this provision would make such persons vulnerable to a law suit even if the threshold limit had not been reached.

—Out-of-state drivers would be subject to liability in all accidents.

—No regulation of contingency fees for attorneys. Herget said this provision would eliminate much of the opposition to the plan voiced by members of the legal profession.

Herget said the plan would include a threshold limit but that figure had not been decided. The amount will probably fall between $75,000 and $100,000, he said.

Some proponents of no-fault insurance claim the system will stabilize auto insurance rates and in some cases reduce rates.

Herget said that a number of legislators have contacted him about the possibility of sponsoring no-fault legislation in 1973.

He said that if some sort of change was not made in the current insurance system on the state level, the federal government would eventually step in and force some kind of change.

Herget said he hoped the legislation could be drafted by the summer of 1972.

9 Fail to Place Medina at Massacre

By KATHRYN JOHNSON

Associated Press Writer

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP)

—None of the nine members of Charlie Company who testified during the first two days at Capt. Ernest L. Medina's court-martial placed the captain at any My Lai massacre death scene.

Two who testified Tuesday, Charles Sledge and Thomas W. Turner, were among the most damaging witnesses in Lt. William L. Calley Jr.'s trial. But their testimony was far less meaningful in the case of Medina, commander of Charlie Company when it swept through My Lai in March 1968.

Medina, 34, of Montrose, Colo., is charged with the murder of 102 civilians at My Lai and with assault in connection with the interrogation of a prisoner.

The Army contends Medina killed a woman and a child and is responsible for the deaths of 100 other Vietnamese villagers because his troops misconstrued his orders and he failed to intervene and stop them from killing.

Calley, one of Medina's platoon leaders, was convicted of murdering 22 MY Lai villagers and sentenced to life imprisonment. His case is under review.

Sledge, a Sardinia, Miss., truck driver, and Turner, a farmer from Bellvue, Neb., testified that they saw Medina fire a shot over the head of a Vietnamese prisoner standing against a tree during interrogation.

Turner, 24, a team leader in Calley's platoon, testified that Calley methodically herded group after group of Vietnamese men, women and children into a ditch at My Lai, and executed them. He gave similar testimony at Calley's trial.

Welfare Dept. Ordered to Open Records

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP)

—Circuit Judge William Lee said Tuesday that state Welfare Commissioner Dalton Jennings had 10 days to provide Pros. Atty. Sam Weems of Des Arc the financial records on 12 cases Weems is investigating.

The cases involve the Aid to Families With Dependent Children program.

Weems had subpoenaed Jennings and Mrs. Doris Cook, Arkansas County welfare director, to appear in court here Tuesday. Mrs. Cook brought with her the 12 case records Weems had requested, but Jennings did not appear.

Louis Watts, Jennings' attorney, filed a motion seeking to quash the subpoena, but Lee denied the motion.

Weems said the records provided by Mrs. Cook were not sufficient. He said he had subpoenaed Jennings so that he could determine the total financial assistance given in the 12 cases.

Weems told Lee it was im-

Boggs Coming to Mills Rally

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., majority leader of the House, and Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, are scheduled to attend the Aug. 26 appreciation rally for Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark.

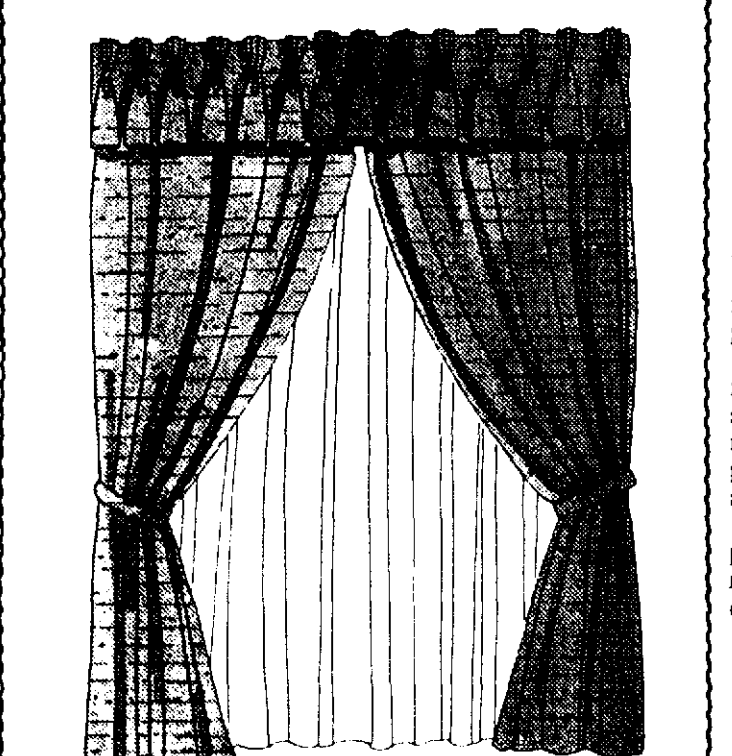

Joe Purcell of Benton, state Democratic party chairman, made the announcement. He also said that Rep. Fred A. Stubblefield, D-Ky., would attend the 6 p.m. rally at Barton Coliseum.

portant he obtain accurate financial records because he had found that county records he had subpoenaed at Lonoke recently were inaccurate.

"Only one case out of 15 was accurate," Weems said. He said that in one case "it was reported the AFDC dependent had received about $1,000 when in fact is a little over $10,000."

Sens. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff and Robert Harvey of Stuttgart attended the hearing as witnesses for Weems. All three said they did not believe there should be any secrecy concerning the use of taxpayers' money and all expressed concern at the growing welfare burden on taxpayers.

STATIONARY PARENTS FEAR MILITARY LIFE

Dear Helen: My husband is in the Air Force and has decided to stay in the Service. We love each other, have two small children and a good life.

...But to hear our parents talk, you'd think we'd signed our lives away.

They have lived all their lives in one small Texas town, the two families within 11 miles of each other. And they think anyone who files is abnormal. To make a career of it? And travel all over

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The "Cade's County" company was a half day behind its shooting schedule. As a result, the big sound stage looked like a disturbed ant hill as the production crew, from director to assistant electricians, scurried around trying to make up the lost time.

Glenn Ford, who will make his television series debut next month, was in the center of the action rehearsing a short scene. He plays a Jeep-riding sheriff in the Southwest and the episode in the works involved the killing of a beauty contest winner.

Almost leisurely, he walked away from the hectic scene. In his dressing room, he sprawled comfortably on a sofa and remarked: "I think we'll make up the time. They are working frantically, but I can't let it get to me. Somehow I manage to pull a curtain around myself and I really don't hear the activity. Once in a while it starts to get to me and then I tell everyone to cool it."

Ford, one of the big box-office film stars, chose to enter television—mostly made in Hollywood—at a time when most motion pictures are being turned out in locations all over the world. He loves his home and wants to live in it, as simple as that.

Ford was scheduled to play a policeman supervising a half-way house for children in trouble.

"I signed for that half-hour series," he said. "Then somebody put a string of my films together on television and the people at CBS saw them. Somebody—either Bob Wood, the president, or Fred Silverman, the program head—said, 'Wow, he'd be just right for that Western property we've been holding for a year.'"

What Ford did not say was that the shift came when all television suddenly cooled on relevancy and social conscience as a number of well-intentioned programs wound up third in the three-network ratings race.

the world? Absolute insanity.

I'm tired of hearing, "You'd better hope your children are smart since you'll be moving so often, who knows to what kind of school...!" Etc., etc.

They think we're going off to die. How can I answer?—ABOUT TO EXPLODE AND GETTING DESPERATE

Dear Des: ... By letter, from all those interesting places you'll visit. And at home—with a smile. Why argue when you can never change "stationary" minds?—H.

Dear Helen: I lent my friend $500 for his "friend" who needed a legal abortion. I didn't ask questions, or get an I.O.U. He seemed pretty desperate.

Well, it's been over a year, and I haven't seen my money. My friend does whatever he pleases. He just bought a sports car and takes out expensive girls. When I mention my $500 he says he's temporarily broke.

Should I threaten to tell his wife about this?—ALSO BROKE

Dear Broke: A wife who overlooks "expensive girls" isn't much of a blackmail threat.

Next time don't be so generous—until the I.O.U. is signed.—H.

Dear Helen: All my life I've had an allergy to cheese. It causes me intense gastric distress. A few jokers are always trying to prove this is "all in my head."

Several months back we were invited to dinner and I suspected a dish on the table had cheese in it. The hostess assured me it had none. I ate—and spent the next two days in the hospital. She was another of those who thought it was my "imagination."

We repaid the obligation, and now we'll be invited to dinner at their home again. I told my family to count me out, but the wife thinks I'm unreasonable.

I've just about had it with would-be psychologists. Do I have a right to stay home?—JACK

Dear Jack: I'm surprised you remain friendly with a woman who put you in the hospital.

Better you should stay home than go suspecting, for that would make everyone uncomfortable.—H.

NLR School Plan Gets Approval

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has approved the North Little Rock School District's desegregation plan for the 1971 - 72 school year.

Under the plan, previously approved by Federal Judge J. Smith Henley, the district will assign elementary students by the neighborhood school method. The appellate court said, however, that it would issue an order modifying the plan for the elementary grades. The court did not say when the specification would be made nor did it say what the modification will consider.

Bench Breaks Slump in Win Over Cards

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Hunt was tired of being hit—and he started swinging back.

Johnny Bench was tired of being booed—and he also started swinging back.

Hunt, the pugnacious Montreal second baseman, was hit twice by pitches—the second triggering a free-for-all—as the Expos pounded out an 11-0 decision over the San Diego Padres Tuesday night.

Bench, the National League's most valuable player, home run leader and runs batted in champion in 1970, quieted the boo-birds at Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium, slugging a two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning, giving the Reds a 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Elsewhere in the National League Tuesday, Houston defeated Pittsburgh 6-5; Atlanta edged Chicago 5-4; San Francisco downed Philadelphia 5-1, and Los Angeles blanked New York 4-0.

In the American League, Chicago swept a doubleheader from Detroit 6-5 and 4-1; New York beat Kansas City twice 2-0 and 8-5; Washington trounced Oakland 8-1; California nipped Boston 4-3; Cleveland clipped Minnesota 3-2, and Baltimore topped Milwaukee 3-2.

Hunt recently broke the modern major league record for getting hit by the pitch the most times in one season, eclipsing the mark of 31 set by Louis Evans of St. Louis in 1910.

Against the Padres, he was hit for the 33rd time this season by a pitch from loser Steve Arlin in the third inning. Hunt was nicked by another Arlin delivery in the fifth inning—and that's when he began retaliating.

He ripped off the mask of San Diego catcher Bob Barton and landed a hard blow to the face. Then he took a smash to the head, before bashing Barton again as players from both benches poured onto the field.

In a separate melee, Arlin was dragged to the ground by Montreal pitcher Carl Morton, who is scheduled to work tonight. There also was a lot of pushing and shoving before order was restored.

When matters seemingly quieted down, Hunt was ejected by plate umpire Mel Steiner. That set off Montreal Manager Gene Mauch, who argued vehemently with Steiner. It was to no avail.

Barton and Arlin, apparently none the worse for the fight, remained in the game. Arlin, however, wished he hadn't. He was tagged for a run-scoring single by Rusty Staub and a bases-loaded triple by Bob Bailey.

Meanwhile, rookie Ernie McAnally shackled the Padres on four hits.

Bench, known more for his slugging exploits with a bat than with his fists, has been mired in a slump for most of the season—and the Cincinnati fans have been showering him with boos. He turned the boos to cheers with his game-winning shot against the Cards.

The Reds' catcher drilled a pitch from reliever Chuck Taylor over the left-center field wall, scoring Lee May, who had singled earlier in the ninth. It was Bench's 31st homer of the season, and gave him 51 runs batted in.

Hal M. Bress, who battered for the Reds' first baseman Joe Torre, hit the National League's leading home run slugging .300, after homer.

Cesar Cedeno's two-run single homered to a five-run seventh inning rally that enabled Houston to overcome Pittsburgh. Denis Metcalfe and Jesus Alou also singled in runs during the uprising, and Doug Rader knocked in the other run with a sacrifice fly.

Roberto Clemente had four RBI for the Pirates with a single, a two-run homer and a sacrifice fly.

Despite the loss, the Pirates' 15th in their last 19 games, Pittsburgh remained five games ahead of St. Louis and

Tennis Open Means Money, Prestige

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Open, scheduled to start Sept. 1 at Forest Hills, is a tennis tournament with prestige, glamour and a $160,000 purse.

It is also a tennis tournament without many of the top names in the game.

Ken Rosewall of Australia, the defending champion, and fellow Aussies Roy Emerson, Tony Roche and Fred Stolle won't be competing, nor will Andres Gimeno of Spain.

A spokesman for World Championship Tennis in Dallas, Tex., said a letter had been sent to tournament director Bill Talbert saying the four Australians and Gimeno would not be competing.

"Certainly no tournament is as exciting without them," Talbert declared. "I have no idea what is going through their heads. To me it's like Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus saying they weren't playing in golf's U.S. Open."

The absence of the five pro stars could be a result of the renewed feud between World Championship Tennis, Inc. and the International Tennis Federation.

The U.S. Open is one of the tournaments from which all WCT contract pros have been banned, effective Jan. 1, by the I.T.F.

Others who'll be missing from the U.S. Open include Australian Rod Laver, who won the tournament in 1969. After losing early in the recent Canadian Open, Laver packed his bags and said he needed a rest from tennis.

The two most prominent names in women's tennis, Evonne Goolagong and Margaret Court, also won't be competing. Miss Goolagong is passing up Forest Hills on the advice of her coach, Vic Edwards, who says she needs a rest. Mrs. Court has left the tennis tour because she is pregnant.

5½ in front of Chicago in the NL East.

Chicago missed an opportunity to take over second place and gain ground on Pittsburgh by losing to Atlanta. Pinch hitter Zolo Versalles greeted reliever Ray Newman with a homer, his fifth of the season, leading off the ninth inning, breaking a 4-4 tie.

Rookie Earl Williams blasted the 24th homer for the Braves over the center field fence in the fifth inning, while Ron Santo cracked a three-run homer for the Cubs.

Gaylord Perry became the top winner on the San Francisco staff, gaining his 13th victory with a seven-hitter as the Giants maintained their 6½-game advantage over Los Angeles in the National League West.

The Giants took command in the first inning when they scored three runs on only one hit—Ken Henderson's leadoff double.

After Henderson's hit, Tito Fuentes was hit by a pitch and Willie Mays walked, filling the bases. Bobby Bonds' force out grounder drove in Henderson and Dave Kingman hit a sacrifice fly, scoring Fuentes. Then, Bonds came all the way around from first on a passed ball and two wild pitches.

Los Angeles' Claude Osteen earned his 12th victory of the season—but his first since July 19—with a sparkling three-hitter against the faltering Mets, who suffered their sixth loss in seven games. The Dodgers' left-hander allowed only one runner past first base, while striking out five and walking only two.

The Dodgers scored all their runs in the first three innings against fireballing Nolan Ryan, with Osteen doubling in one.

Oakland Finds Freeze Applies to Runs Too

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The patriotic Oakland A's met with President Richard M. Nixon Tuesday afternoon and a few hours later adopted a freeze on run-making that gave the cold shoulder to their shot at a 59-year-old American League record.

The A's, who had won 12 straight road games, four short of the AL mark set by Washington in 1912, managed just one run against rookie Bill Gogolewski, who pitched the Senators to an 8-1 victory over the West Division's runaway leaders Tuesday night.

So Oakland had to be content with a mere half-game pickup on second place Kansas City which dropped a doubleheader at New York, 2-0 and 8-5.

Elsewhere in the AL Tuesday, California trimmed Boston 4-3, Chicago swept a doubleheader with Detroit, winning the opener 6-5 and taking the nightcap 4-1, Cleveland nipped Minnesota 3-2, and Baltimore edged Milwaukee 3-2.

In the National League, Houston nipped Pittsburgh 6-5, Atlanta took Chicago 5-4, Cincinnati topped St. Louis 5-3, Montreal battered San Diego 11-0, Los Angeles blanked New York 4-0 and San Francisco beat Philadelphia 5-1.

The A's spent a friendly afternoon talking baseball with the president and a not so pleasant evening playing it against the Senators. Don Mincher drove in four Washington runs with a homer and a single and Frank Howard cracked his 21st homer of the season, leading the romp over Oakland.

Gogolewski scattered eight hits and contributed three hits for Washington as the Senators shelled Blue Moon Odom. It was Oakland's first loss to Washington since Opening Day, April 5, when the Senators beat Vida Blue. That was, of course, the Presidential Opener.

Despite their problems with the Senators, the A's gained ground as the Yankees whipped Kansas City twice.

Left-hander Fritz Peterson fired a five-hitter in the first game, winning his 13th in 20 decisions with singles by Danny Cater and Thurman Munson driving in New York's runs.

In the second game, the Yankees exploded for five runs in the seventh inning on homers by Felipe Alou and Bobby Murcer to erase a 4-1 Royals' lead.

Alou tagged a two-run homer pinch hitting for winning pitcher Mike Kekich and then after Gene Michael singled and Munson walked, Murcer unloaded his three-run shot to give New York the lead.

Alou's hit was his seventh in 13 pinch hitting appearances this season. He has driven in seven runs as a pinch batter.

Vada Pinson drilled two long drives—one staying in the ballpark and the other going out. Both provided Cleveland with runs as the Indians shaded Minnesota.

Pinson sent Tony Oliva to the fence for his sacrifice fly in the third inning and then tagged one over the wall to snap a tie in the eighth.

Mike Paul earned the victory, outdueling Bert Blyleven with both hurlers going the route.

Jim Spencer drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double as California scored four times in the first inning against Boston. Then Andy Messersmith survived homers by Rico Petrocelli and Duane Josephson to pitch the Angels past the Red Sox.

His big double gave Spencer seven RBIs in two games against Boston.

Ellie Hendricks cracked a leadoff homer in the ninth inning, giving the Orioles their victory over Milwaukee.

The Brewers led 2-0 into the eighth but Paul Blair beat out a two-out bunt for a single and then Boog Powell tied the game with a 425-foot homer—his 17th of the year.

Steve Huntz ripped two homers including a three-run shot in the bottom of the eighth that gave Chicago its first game victory over Detroit. The homers were the first this season for Huntz.

Then Huntz doubled and scored what turned out to be the Sox winning run in the nightcap. Walt Williams and Mike Andrews homered for the Sox in the second game.

The German name Humbert means "bright."

Jets May Be Better Without Joe

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — Strange as it may seem, the New York Jets may be a better team this year without quarterback Joe Namath than they were last year with him.

The reasons are many and varied, including:

—The injury to Namath last year that enabled third-year passer Al Woodall to develop as the back-up quarterback.

—The injury to receiver Don Maynard last year that enabled Rich Caster to develop.

—The apparent successful comeback of running back Matt Snell from an Achilles injury.

—Injuries last year that led to the development of two potential defensive starters—and Mark Lomas and tackle John Little.

—A year of playing together for last season's all new defensive backfield of cornerbacks Steve Tannen and Earle Thomas and safeties Gus Holoman and W. K. Hicks.

—The trade acquisition of placekicker Bobby Howfield, and the presence of three draft choices, running back John Riggins, return specialist Chris Fargasopoulos and tackle John Mooring.

No one is saying the Jets wouldn't be better with Namath in the line-up but there's little doubt they will be improved over last year when injuries leveled the team's title chances and led to a 4-10 record.

With Namath at quarterback, the Jets were 1-4 at the start of the 1970 season and before they started winning again under Woodall it was all but over. But now the Jets and Coach Webb Ewbank are confident Woodall can get the job done.

"He's a different quarterback than he was last year at this time," Ewbank says. "The players feel he has the experience now. And he did gain a lot of experience."

Caster, groomed as a replacement for Maynard, now will step in for the retired George Sauer. Snell is expected to provide punch for the running game along with Riggins, the Jets' No. 1 draft pick from Kansas.

Lomas will move into the end spot vacated by Verlon Biggs' departure for Washington while Little battles Steve Thompson for a tackle spot on a strong front four led by end Gerry Philbin and tackle John Elliott. The defensive backfield also figures to improve with Tannen and Thomas now sophomores.

And Howfield is expected to provide the booming kickoffs Ewbank feels the club needs while Fargasopoulos adds a flare for returning kicks the Jets have long been without.

Add to that a solid offensive line in which draft choice John Mooring from Tampa may fill a tackle spot and a sharp line-backing trio in Al Atkinson, Larry Grantham and Ralph Baker—and it all totals up to title potential.

The one caution flag is raised by Ewbank, who points out Woodall still is a young quarterback in the learning process. "No one becomes a quarterback overnight," Ewbank emphasizes.

Inexperience Only Fault of Raiders

By BURLE PETTIT
Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

Written for Associated Press
LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — As head defensive coach at Texas Tech, Richard Bell is faced with a critical task.

The Raiders are listed generally as Southwest Conference title contenders, and their most glaring weakness appears to be inexperience and instability in the defensive line.

"It's quite a challenge," Bell admits readily. "We have to replace three guys (end Bruce Dowdy and tackles Wayne McDermann and Bob Mooney) who played practically every meaningful snap last year, and we went all the way through spring training with the replacements never becoming obvious."

"A contending football team has to have a good defensive line of scrimmage, and we are still unsettled in that area."

Even, however, if the Raiders do bridge that gap, Bell brings to mind another 1970 ingredient much too abstract to count on. While it isn't anything appearing on the depth chart, Bell insists that Tech never would have reached the Sun Bowl without it. Simply described, it is Lady Luck.

"Just look at the record last year," Bell continued. "We didn't exactly blow folks out of the tub. In the five conference games we won, we were trailing during the critical stages of four of them."

The Raiders finished third in the 1970 race, beating every SWC opponent except Arkansas and Texas. Of the five teams Tech finished ahead of, four almost beat the Raiders. Only A&M among the others never led Tech at any stage of the game.

"That meant that we got a lot of good bounces," Bell added. "Personally, I've never known how to coach those bounces."

Tech is far from bankrupt in the important areas of experience and talent. The Raiders of defense promises to be the best the school has put together in recent

Can-Am Title Again Going to England

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Revson and Denis Hulme will deliver Team McLaren's fifth straight Can-Am sports car racing title to England this year. To bet otherwise would be foolhardy.

With four events already run in the series of 10, the two McLaren drivers have finished one-two in three and two-three in the other—rolling up a commanding points lead in the process.

Only a dramatic turn of fortune—either a red hot streak by Scotland's Jackie Stewart in a Lola, or the quick and overpowering emergency of Mario Andretti's Ferrari or Jo Siffert's Porsche—appears to be in their way. Even this seems to be a remote possibility.

Yet two more nearly opposite drivers, in everything except absolute fearlessness and ability, hardly could have been selected to fly McLaren's bright orange colors.

Even the late Bruce McLaren, the gimpy-legged New Zealander who founded the team and won two titles before he died 18 months ago in a practice crash, would have smiled at the oddity.

Revson, 31, is a handsome, boyishly eager bachelor. Member of the socially prominent, wealthy Revson cosmetics family in New York, Revson is determined to become independent of his relatives and has chosen racing as the vehicle. He has won more than $200,000 this year.

An "in-and-out" in sports cars of various species for six years, including an assortment of ventures in Europe, Revson didn't really begin to show his values until he joined McLaren this year.

As the so-called No. 2 driver, he was calculated to develop under the watchful eyes of Hulme, the 35-year-old New Zealander who joined McLaren in 1967 to help spearhead the team's domination of the Can-Am series that quickly became the "Bruce and Denny Show."

Hulme, as described by his close associates, is a man of animal strength, a dogged desire to win and an unwillingness to suffer crowds or boring company. Revson shows up at more parties in a month than Hulme visits in a year.

By contrast to Revson's birth and upbringing, Hulme was born on a dairy farm in New Zealand's tobacco-producing area around Motueka, son of a mechanic who had won the Vic-

An easy-going, still reticent family man, Hulme's craggy features sometimes light up with a ragged grin. An admitted introvert, he fits nobody's idea of a swinging, hell-raising driver.

For that matter, neither does Revson, though he enjoys bachelorhood to the hilt and never seems to be without company—usually a well-tailored blonde. He wears his hair long; Hulme's thinning, greying locks are cropped frequently.

Hulme left New Zealand in 1960 and went to Britain on a driving scholarship similar to the one that brought McLaren out of the same country two years before.

He joined Jack Brabham's Formula 1 team in 1965 after traveling around Europe in odd-lot machinery for three years with little success. He won the Grand Prix driving title in 1967, the same year he moved into McLaren's cars for a fling at the Can-Am. He posted three Can-Am triumphs as McLaren's driving mate, and placed second to his close friend in the point standings.

Since then, Hulme has won 18 Can-Am events, has won the title twice and personally has accounted for close to half a million dollars in prize money. He also is a regular Grand Prix driver for McLaren.

But if Hulme was needed as a steady force for Revson, the need hasn't been apparent. Revson has shown no reluc-

Manning Will Start for the Saints

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New Orleans Saints will play their first home exhibition game of the season Saturday night against the Kansas City Chiefs, and Archie Manning, the high-priced rookie from Mississippi will get the starting assignment before the home-town fans.

Manning is battling holdover Edd Hargett for the starting quarterback berth, but since he represents such a sizeable investment—and since his college exploits made Manning a familiar name to sports fans throughout the deep south—it's only understandable that the New Orleans brass would like to see Manning make good right away.

During the off-season the Saints dealt away Billy Kilmer, the team's No. 1 quarterback, opening the door for Manning. Hargett, who started four games last year and completed 78 of 175 pass attempts, admittedly has one foot in the door because of his experience, but it remains open for Manning.

In last week's 36-21 loss to Dallas, Hargett was the starter but failed to move the team, leaving at halftime with the Saints behind 27-0. Manning took over for the second half, completed 9 of 22 passes and engineered the team's three touchdown drives, throwing for one score and tallying once on the ground.

Two other quarterbacks, Dick Shiner of the New York Giants and Jerry Rhome of Houston, are hoping to find new places to play.

Shiner, who walked out of the Giants' camp last weekend, has one message for Coach Alex Webster: "Trade me. I just want out."

Shiner was scheduled to start an exhibition game Sunday night, but left the team prior to the game. "It would have been crazy of me to play," Shiner explained. "I hadn't signed a contract and I'd made up my mind that I wasn't going to play unless I was signed."

Rhyme, a seven-year veteran who spent most of his career in Dallas, was cut by the Houston Oilers. Houston Coach Ed Hughes has decided to go with veteran Charley Johnson and rookies Dan Pastorini of Santa Clara and Lynn Dickey of Kansas State at quarterback.

Other veterans to feel the ax were defensive lineman Al Dotson, dropped by the Oakland Raiders, and versatile Phil Vanderscha, cut loose by the Green Bay Packers. In five pro seasons, Vanderscha played every position with the Packers except quarterback and defensive back.

Chicago running back Craig Baynham, recuperating from an injured shoulder, fractured his left wrist in practice and will be sidelined for a month.

Charlotte Cushman was the first member of the theatrical profession whose name was placed in the Hall of Fame for Great Americans, in 1915.

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, N.M. (AP) — Golf star Lee Trevino, feeling a "little tender" after an emergency appendectomy last week, checked out of St. Anne's Hospital Monday.

Lady Medic Comes to the Rescue

LORING AIR FORCE BASE, Maine (AP) — The injured airman on the ground watches as an Air Force rescue helicopter hovers overhead. A medic is lowered on the hoist cable from the quivering chopper. Then he sees that the crewman coming to his rescue is a woman.

And so he meets Marilyn Pierce of West Covina, Calif., the first and only woman flight crew member of an air rescue team in the Air Force.

In crash and emergency situations not involving fire and in which her chopper cannot land, Airman 1.C. Pierce is the first out the chopper door.

Lowered to earth on the hoist cable, she must decide what the situation calls for and whether medical attention is needed.

Women's lib?

"I'm not a part of that group," says Marilyn. "I just feel I'm doing something for the first time. I just happened to be there when they asked for volunteers."

In civilian life Marilyn found she couldn't get a secretarial job without experience, so she joined the Air Force.

There she got into the medical field and was working the flight surgeon's office when the helicopter rescue and recovery detachment was being formed.

Nothing in regulations said a woman couldn't be on an air rescue flight crew. It just hadn't been done before.

Squadron headquarters at Eglin AFB, Fla., sent word it was all right to give Marilyn a chance, providing the detachment commander approved.

Marilyn learned how to perform her job on the helicopter from April to June with no concessions granted her sex.

So far all her missions have been practice but Marilyn is looking forward to the first real challenge. "I'm eager to go," she says. "For once I'll feel like I'm really needed and doing something for somebody." However, she says "I think I'll be scared."

"It takes guts to work under a 5,000-7,000-pound helicopter hovering over you six feet off the ground," she says. "It's easy for a gust of wind to come along and for you to get hit by a wheel. I don't know if a lot of girls would have the guts."

First Negro Private Eye Makes Good

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Richard Roundtree, the movie screen's first Negro private eye, is taking sudden recognition by both whites and blacks—with attendant pleas for autographs—calmly.

In "Shaft," a contemporary thriller in the Bogart-Cagney-Robinson tradition, Roundtree, 29, plays a tough New York City sleuth who clashes with the Mafia, black militants and police. Touches of sex, nudity and rough language gave it an "R" rating.

In five weeks "Shaft" paid $12 million cost. In seven, with openings yet to come in many cities, the MGM release has grossed $3,979,000. It's the second film directed by famed still photographer Gordon "The Learning Tree" Parks.

Critics have called it "a fast-moving pleasure" and "an enjoyable, suspenseful who's doing-it."

Of Roundtree they've written: "He's a smash" ... "makes an authentic star debut" ... "simply fabulous" ... "reason enough to see the movie."

Soft-voiced, Roundtree admits with a smile: "That hand-chapin' is a very addictive drug."

He was here from his New York home for a brief visit that bore fruit in two deals: A "Shaft" sequel was set to start filming next January in the Bahamas. Meanwhile he'll star as a U.S. diplomat in an independent film with Chuck Connors and Broderick Crawford on location in Lebanon.

Little and graceful, 197 pounds and nearly 6 feet 2, Roundtree was born in New Rochelle, N.Y.

He was the smallest of his peers during childhood but outgrew them in high school. He captained the track team and played end on the nation's third-ranked high school football squad. The school annual named him most popular, best dressed, best looking.

He went to Southern Illinois University, where the football coach gave him a scholarship. Leaving there, he discovered a flair for performing as one of

The Hope High School Student Council recently held its summer workshop at the school Administration Building.

President Tommy Frazier presided and the group heard reports from delegates to the national meeting, Camp Couchdale Leadership Conference and the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Space Seminar.

Plans were discussed for the coming school year and the state convention which will be held in Hope next Spring.

Principal Bobby B. Whitmarsh, at right top picture, addressed the group and outlined some of the school activities. Advisors are Mrs. Joe Watkins and Mrs. W.A. Williams.

Five Cleared Gls Face New Charges

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Five officers and four enlisted men, cleared of criminal charges stemming from the My Lai massacre, face new disciplinary action, a Pentagon source says.

It was learned Tuesday that Secretary of the Army Robert F. Froehke, in his first involvement with the My Lai affair since being sworn in July 1, sent letters last week to the nine officers and enlisted men, notifying them of the planned administrative punishment.

At the same time, it was learned, Froehke decided against administrative punishment for five other officers also charged with covering up the 1968 massacre.

The Army acknowledged Froehke has made a decision in the case, but refused to discuss the report.

Pentagon sources say the five officers were told they would be censured or reprimanded. Some also were notified they are to be stripped of medals for valor and merit earned while serving with the American Division at the time of the My Lai incident. The officers range in rank from a full colonel to captain.

The four enlisted men were told they will be given honorable discharges, it was learned, whether they had planned to leave the Army or not.

At the time the Army marked the men's files for further investigation, officials said the purpose was to determine whether the officers' and enlisted men's performances had met Army standards.

Each of the nine was given 30 days to submit a defense and to show cause why the disciplinary action should not be taken.

The enlisted men facing discharge are: Staff Sgt. Kenneth L. Hodges, 26, of Dublin, Ga.; Pvt. Max D. Hutson, 24, Attica, Ind.; Cpl. Kenneth Schiel, 24, Swartz Creek, Mich., and Sgt. Esequiel Torres, 23, Brownsville, Tex.

Names of the officers involved were not disclosed.

Staff Sgt. David Mitchell, 31, of St. Francisville, La., the only other enlisted man from the platoon led by 1st Lt. William L. Calley at My Lai still in the service, will be allowed to continue his Army career. Mitchell has been acquitted by a court-martial of criminal charges.

Calley was convicted of premeditated murder of 102 Vietnamese civilians and given a life sentence which is now under review. Twenty-four other officers and enlisted men originally were charged either with involvement in the massacre or covering it up.

Bars License to Oklahoma Osteopath

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Osteopaths from other states cannot be licensed to practice in Arkansas under the reciprocity law that applies to medical doctors, according to a decision by the state Medical Board.

The decision was made in connection with efforts by Dr. Robert G. Gillson of Poteau, Okla., an osteopath who sought to be licensed in Arkansas so he could operate a branch of his clinic part-time at Waldron, Ark. Waldron (Ouachita County) is about 25 miles from the Oklahoma state line and has a shortage of medical help.

Gillson sought to obtain an Arkansas license under a law passed by the 1971 General Assembly that grants full medical privileges to osteopaths. Previously, Arkansas was one of only three states that withheld full privileges of medical practice from osteopaths. Gov. Dale Bumpers said the law would encourage osteopaths to start practices in Arkansas, thereby aiding in the critical shortage of doctors in rural areas.

Dr. Joe Verser of Harrisburg, secretary of the state Medical Board and a leading opponent of the new law, notified Gillson he was not eligible for a license.

Verser said Gillson could receive a license if he took the state medical examination.

Maryland Visitors Enjoy Stay in Hope and Area

Perry Campbell presents a key of welcome to Maryland visitors.

The Kiewe family at the old Blacksmith Shop in Washington, Ark. where James Black forged the famous knife for Jim Bowie.

—Hope, (Ark.) Star photos

The Bernard Kiewe family of Baltimore, Maryland spent the last few days of their 2-week "Discover America Vacation" in Southwest Arkansas. They were met at Murfreesboro Friday morning by Pod Rogers of the Hope Star and his son Brad for a search for diamonds; a visit at the Caddo Indian Burial Grounds; a stop at the Charlie Stewart Peach Orchards on the Murfreesboro-Nashville Highway and then on to historic old Washington for a tour. Fay Townsend official photographer for the State was on hand to record their visit in pictures. When the group arrived in Hope that night they were fed a steak supper at Perry's Restaurant. Their hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Arch Wylie. The visitors were provided lodging and Saturday lunch by Mr. Campbell. (Perry's Hotel.)

Hope was included in the Kiewe (Pronounced Keewee) family's travelogue by the Tourist Committee of the Arkansas Parks and Recreation Department because it was the season to see some of the famous large melons growing and also to be able to have some to eat. The Lester Kents and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Thornton of Johnson

City, Tennessee provided the highlight of the entire trip (according to the visiting family) by giving them the opportunity to see watermelons growing, something they had never seen before.

Evidently the Kiewe's were very favorably impressed by their vacation in Arkansas because they plan to return next summer. Also, Mr. Kiewe, who is in Public Relations, hopes to use melons later on this year, in some way, at a convention in Baltimore.

New Soybean Officers

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Harold Kuehn of Duquoin, Ill., was elected president of the American Soybean Association Tuesday, succeeding D. Leslie Tindal of Pinewood, S.C., who served as president of the organization for the past two years.

Other officers elected Tuesday were W. B. Tilson of Plainview, Tex., vice president; Howard Adler of Sharpville, Ind., treasurer and Seymour Johnson of Indianola, Miss., secretary.

It was also announced that the 1972 ASA convention would be held in Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kent gave the visitors a tour of their famous melon patch and provided them with all the melons they wanted.

IMF Silence May Signify a Frown

WASHINGTON (AP) — In what could be a frown of disapproval, the International Monetary Fund has yet to react to removal of the U.S. dollar from its free convertibility to gold.

A spokesman for the 18-nation organization said its 20-member executive board still is considering the action President Nixon took Sunday.

The board met twice Monday but failed to meet again Tuesday, indicating differences among members checking with home governments. No further meetings have been scheduled.

When West Germany floated its mark on the world monetary markets two years ago and again this year to relieve pressure by speculators, the IMF did not approve the action because it violated technical agreements of members to maintain the par value of their currencies.

The IMF, created along with the World Bank after World War II, oversees monetary relations in the non-Communist world.

IMF sources said the United States can buy or sell either gold or other currencies to support the value of the dollar. Since Nixon suspended gold transactions to support the dollar, the IMF apparently feels the United States should purchase foreign currencies such as the mark or the Japanese yen.

But this is contrary to the U.S. Treasury directive which seeks to improve the competitive position of U.S. exports in terms of foreign currencies.

Asian diplomats here representing countries with heavy U.S. dollar reserves instead of gold to back their currency expect a new alignment of currency more flexible than the present IMF system, perhaps with a 5-per-cent fluctuation.

Presently, a nation is obliged to buy dollars if its currency varies more than 1 per cent upward or downward from the fixed relation to the U.S. dollar.

Organized Labor Is Suspicious

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor, suspicious and confused about President Nixon's wage-price-rent freeze and a call for no strikes during the freeze, is bracing for a face-to-face showdown meeting with administration leaders.

Labor leaders already had a long list of issues to be clarified at Thursday's meeting before J. Curtis Counts, chief federal mediator, announced late Tuesday the administration was asking for an end to current strikes and a moratorium on any new ones until the 90-day freeze ends.

Nixon tapped a top economic adviser, George Schultz, and Secretary of Labor J.D. Hodgson to respond to questions and criticism of AFL-CIO President George Meany, who called the freeze a bonanza for businessmen that would make workers suffer most.

"Mr. Meany appears to be sadly out of step with the needs and desires of America's working men and women," said Hodgson.

Schultz, director of the White House Office of Management and Budget, and Hodgson are to meet with the AFL-CIO's 35-man executive council to answer questions about the freeze and strike moratorium.

The federation, Teamsters and United Auto Workers unions had no immediate comment on Counts' request, which was underlined by the hint of legal action to enforce a no-strike period.

"A strike or lockout may be considered as anti-stabilizing and a violation of the Economic Stabilization Act," Counts said. But he said voluntary compliance would be sought in all cases.

Leaders of the 13.6-million-member labor federation voiced a host of questions and criticisms in advance of the meeting.

"We want to know what happens to all these labor contracts in existence including the obligations of employers to pay more money under wage step-ups," said a spokesman for Meany.

Government sources said such wage hikes, along with others, were included under Nixon's 90-day freeze.

"What about companies that have already raised prices based on what future costs will be, and now the costs will be held down because they won't have to pay wage increases, and at the same time there is no attempt to freeze profits and interest rates?" added the labor spokesman.

Labor leaders at the meeting also are expected to ask Schultz and Hodgson about the effect of freezing wages, but letting some food prices escape the price freeze.

"The President's suggested freeze on prices does not extend to unprocessed food even though the average working family spends 28 per cent of its total take-home pay for food," said President Floyd Smith of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, one of the federation's executive council members.

"Obviously, it will be far easier for employers to enforce an effective wage freeze than for scattered multitudes of consumers to enforce an effective price freeze," Smith added.

Government officials confirmed Nixon's exemption of "raw agricultural commodities" probably will apply at the supermarket to such unprocessed items as eggs and fresh fruits and vegetables. They added that processed foods—such as meats, butter, bread, pasteurized milk and frozen foods—will be covered by the price freeze.

Smith, whose union had started negotiating new contracts for many of the nation's 225,000 aerospace and airline workers, said the freeze is unfair to many workers.

"Especially glaring will be the inequities that will be left hanging between industries, such as steel and automobile in which long-term contracts have already been ratified and those, such as aerospace, in which negotiations are just getting started," Smith said.

"In effect, the nation's chief executive has become the nation's chief strikebreaker," he said.

Guidelines of Freeze Due Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little government agency charged with policing the wage-price-rent freeze says it will be ready Thursday or Friday with some comprehensive guidelines.

Until then, the Office of Emergency Preparedness says, it will give advice only when the answer is obvious.

The lack of guidelines, a spokesman admits, has resulted in many incorrect answers since President Nixon announced the freeze Sunday.

"We are holding off on answering specifics," said E.V.W. Jones, an OEP information officer.

In his new economic program, the President created a Cost of Living Council to issue regulations and orders for the price freeze. The council is meeting daily to develop rules which the OEP will relay to business and the public. Nixon has named Arnold Weber, former associate director of the Office of Management and Budget, as executive director of the council.

"We were getting conflicting answers," Jones said of a decision to cut off specific advice.

"There are a hundred thousand gray areas," said Dave Pattison, a congressional and public affairs officer for OEP. "We are obviously not all lawyers."

A result has been that one governmental department would answer a query one way, while another would say the opposite.

In some cases, the OEP would give two answers to the same question.

It said Tuesday, for example, that cost-of-living pay raises by state and local governments were not subject to Nixon's freeze order. A spokesman said later "there has been no decision of any kind" on the matter, and heightened confusion by saying federal pay raises would be reviewed also although Nixon specifically ruled them out during the 90-day freeze period.

From the minute the President made his announcement, OEP's 20 phone lines have been busy fielding calls from trade associations, the press, congressmen, and labor and business representatives. Telephone men were installing more lines Tuesday.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The harp is one of the oldest musical instruments known, dating back at least as far as 3500 B.C. In recent years, according to The World Almanac, Irish harps have been found to be so excellent for playing ancient Japanese music that they are being manufactured in Japan for the home market.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB Bone Marrow Quits In Aplastic Anemia

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I need someone to talk to because I am beginning to believe I can't be helped. A year ago, after a bone-marrow test, I was diagnosed as having aplastic anemia. I have taken over 100 units of packed cells and a lot of hormones. Is there a cure for aplastic anemia? Does the spleen have anything to do with aplastic anemia?

Dear Reader—I don't need to tell you that you have a very serious disease. What happens is that the bone marrow quits forming blood cells, causing anemia and, in some cases, insufficient amounts of white cells that ward off infections, and platelets that prevent bleeding.

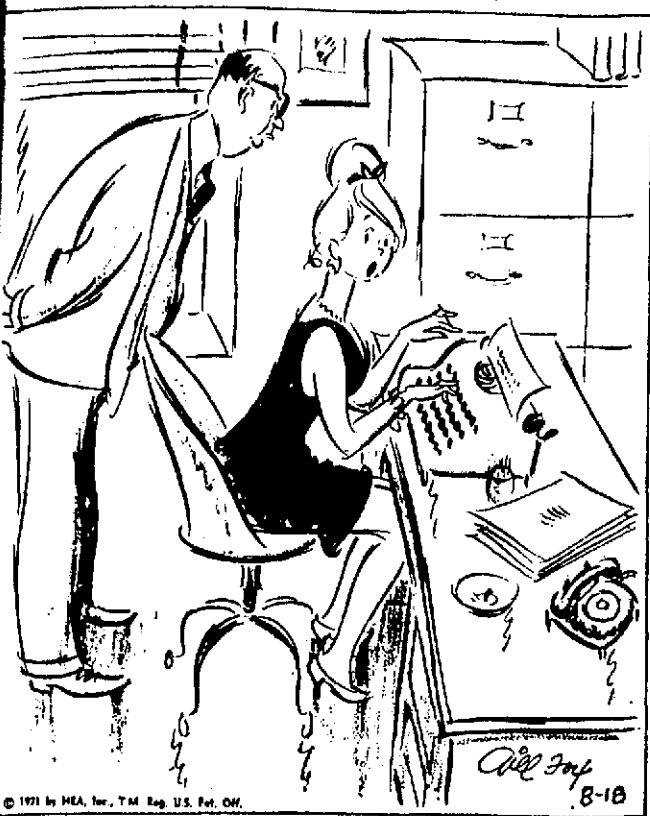

In about half of the cases, no one knows what causes it. Included in the long list of things are chemicals, like dyes, insecticides, solvents, radiation and medicines. To make matters more diffi-

MIKE HUCKABEE

Mike Huckabee spoke to the Lion's Club during its weekly luncheon Monday at the Town and Country, bringing a report on his trip to Kennedy Space Center the week of June 13-19, 1971.

The boys were all of high school age, fifty states represented, ten foreign countries and eleven special guests.

The boys were selected from letters they wrote and by letters of recommendation from school, teachers and from responsible citizens of their home towns. The trip was paid for by actor Hugh O'Brien's Youth Foundation at a cost of approximately $36,000.

While there the boys were quartered at Patrick Air Force Base near Coco Beach Florida. This was about thirty miles from Kennedy Space Center and the day started at 5:30 a.m. with the thirty mile bus ride and continued far into the night with discussions after returning from the space center.

While there the boys went to the top of the launch tower and participated in practice, simulated, missions.

The delegates heard speeches by former Vice-President Hubert Humphrey and a senator from California. They met the Apollo 15 space team who were preparing for the recent trip to the moon.

Mike spoke of the progress in electronics, food processing, propulsion, weather study and other things that was a result of space study.

Last year's cost of 3.3 billion dollars for space study and exploration has long been a topic of discussion as to its worth but Mike pointed out that this sum was only a part of the cost of the food stamp program and that only time would bring the answer and that the march of progress would have to be balanced against the cost.
Lion Jack Gathright presented Mike to the group.

Three Arab Nations to Federate

BEIRUT (AP) — The presidents of Egypt, Libya and Syria are meeting in Damascus today to review details of their plan to federate their three countries in the next two weeks.

They are also discussing the conflict with Israel, the border fighting between Syria and Jordan, the feud between King Hussein and the Palestinian guerrillas, and the rift between the Sudanese and Soviet governments.

The Libyan strongman, Col. Muammar Kaddafi, arrived Tuesday night and met with President Hafez Assad of Syria.

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt was flying to Damascus today to join the discussions. It is the first visit to Syria by an Egyptian president in 10 years. Sadat's predecessor, the late President Gamal Abdel Nasser, visited Damascus in 1961 shortly before a revolt by Syrian officers took Syria out of the United Arab Republic which Egypt and Syria had formed four years before.

Nasser conceived the federation idea, and Sadat, Assad and Kaddafi have vowed to make it a success. The Sudanese government is preparing to join the federation, perhaps by the end of the year, and sent a high-level observer to the conference.

The new state is to be called the Federation of Arab Republics. It will include about 42 million people, with Egypt having a population more than six times the other two combined.

The people of the three countries are to vote in a plebiscite Sept. 1 to approve the federal constitution and the federation's fundamental principles.

More Firms Enter Howard, Gibson Case

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge William Wayne Justice has issued an order allowing three intervenor plaintiffs in the Howard-Gibson class action suit against H. R. Gibson Sr. and others to enter the suit as intervenors.

The order was issued Monday and only allowed the three additional plaintiffs to enter the action as intervenors.

The intervenors, Doranne of California, Inc. doing business as Embassy Giftware; Eddie Parker, doing business as Eddie Parker Sales, Dallas; and Mel Ash, also of Dallas, charged that Gibson and the defendants either received or paid kick-backs and rebates as a condition to doing business with Gibson franchise stores and exhibiting merchandise at quarterly trade shows sponsored by Gibson.

The complaint also charges price discrimination, restraint of trade, entering into illegal tying arrangements, devising, entering into and carrying out unfair methods of competition, committing fraudulent and uncompetitive acts against the plaintiffs and other violations of the Sherman-Clayton Act.

The intervenors' suit charges that the violations resulted in loss of profit and investment, loss of value to and or damage to their businesses, increased expenses for supplies, product services and advertising and trade show rentals, advertising charges, free merchandise, and other direct and indirect coerced payment.

Both the intervenors' suit and the original suit filed by Howard-Gibson charged that suppliers and manufacturers who did not comply with demands for kick-backs, rebates, advertising payments, free merchandise, etc. were victimized by "so-called quality control power" of H. R. Gibson. The quality control provision was a part of all franchise store agreements with Gibson Products Inc., the firm H. R. Gibson heads.

The intervenors' suit states that the plaintiff, Embassy Giftware, received "this type of treatment" from Gibson. It also states that an Embassy Giftware sales representative was told he must pay a 2 per cent kickback to Gibson, and upon complying, the kickback was soon increased to 5 per cent.

The suit then alleges that when Embassy representatives expressed dissatisfaction with the arrangement the company was refused the right to exhibit merchandise at the 1971 trade show and that a competing ceramics distributor obtained exclusive right by paying rebates and kickbacks. It also alleges that plaintiffs Eddie Parker was victimized in a similar manner.

The plaintiffs asked that judgment be awarded the class for actual damage suffered and to be tripled in accordance with the antitrust laws. It also asked that defendants be paid for attorneys fees and for exemplary damages and all court cost.

Fired Officers Get Backing of Others

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Members of the Little Rock Municipal Police Association met Tuesday and voted unanimously to support "financially and publicly" the three Little Rock policemen fired last week for alleged brutality.

Patrolman W. B. Lynch, president of the association, said 55 members of the group attended the special meeting Tuesday. He said the financial support would be to pay the legal expenses of the three policemen who have appealed their dismissals to the Little Rock Civil Service Commission.

Police Chief Gale F. Weeks fired Raymond L. Miller, 26, of North Little Rock and Doyle Webb, 30, and Ronnie E. Phillips, 24, both of Little Rock, Aug. 10 after two North Little Rock men charged they were beaten when arrested Aug. 9 on the roof of a Little Rock restaurant. James Milton Sipes, 31, and Bobby Joe Harrington, 27, the two men who were arrested, appeared in Municipal Court Aug. 10 with facial injuries they said were inflicted by police. Miller, Webb and Phillips said in a statement last Thursday that they had not willfully mistreated the suspects.

off any diversion of cheap Japanese goods from America, and Europe's foreign exchange markets remained closed for a third day. The Tokyo foreign exchange market calmed down after a two-day selling spurge, and the Japanese government maintained its opposition to the revaluation of the yen which is one of Nixon's chief goals.

The Common Market commission said Nixon's move threw into question the principles on which the postwar international monetary system was founded and which favored the development of trade.

The U.S. measures, it warned in a postmidnight statement, "will have a negative effect on international trade and could in fact cancel the results of the Kennedy Round."

Calling for joint action by market members and prospective members, probably Britain, the commission was meeting again today to prepare for a special session on Thursday of cabinet ministers from the six member governments—France, West Germany, the Netherlands, Italy, Belgium and Luxembourg—and Britain.

A spokesman said he could neither confirm nor deny a report that the community is moving toward freeing all its six currencies to let their values in terms of the U.S. dollar be determined by the demand on the open market. But he said the community is seeking a unanimous decision.

The West German mark and the Dutch guilder already float, set free in the monetary crisis last May, and the Belgian-Luxembourg franc is uncontrolled for some transactions. Neither the French nor the Italian government has given any indication of willingness to free the franc or the lira.

Firms Charge PSC Beyond Authority

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Seven industrial customers of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. have asked the state Public Service Commission to reconsider the commission's order that voided industrial contracts with Arkla.

The PSC issued the order last week.

The petition filed Tuesday by seven industrial customers says

Wednesday, August 18, 1971

the PSC went beyond its authority in voiding the contracts.

The commission's act was called "arbitrary, unreasonable and discriminatory" by Reynolds Metals Co., Bromet Co., Cross Oil & Refining Co. and MacMillan Ring-Free Oil Co. The firms contended that the ruling went against the substantial evidence in the case.

Monsanto Co., Union Carbide Corp. and Continental Oil Co. joined in the request for a rehearing.

The request for a rehearing is considered the first step toward challenging the commission's action in court.
